Why is it that the "hewers of wood and haulers of water" for the politicians the newspaper men, are so frequently disappointed when they ask for office? Asks the Shelby Record. There is not a more enthusiastic or forceful Democratic paper in Western Kentucky than the Mayfield Messenger. J. R. Lemon, its editor, is a big-hearted, big-bodied, thoroughly competent man for postmaster at Mayfield, and he wanted the job. But he didn't get it. And another man, who conducts an influential newspaper in Jessamine county, Jim Stears, wants to be postmaster at Nicholasville, and he is qualified to fill the place satisfactorily. Will he get it? Who knows? Lemon is President of the Kentucky Press Association and Stears is its Vice President. Newspapers are expected to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for the politicians, that's all.

There is a seeming disposition on the part of the politicians to put the newspaper men on the back for publishing "complimentary stuff" free, but if there is to be a distribution of pie they are expected to be content with a little bit of the crust. We can tell the story just like it is, for we don't want a postoffice—or any other political job.

In speaking of the candidacy of Hon. A. O. Stanley, for the Democratic nomination for Governor, the Dover News has this to say:

"The man out of the numerous candidates already announced who beats him out will know he has been running some before he reaches the goal. In Congress Stanley has been a powerful champion of the people against trusts, and the trusts will defeat him at the primary if they can. They will not do it in an open fight, but by supporting some of his opponents that they will be able to control. The tobacco growers of Kentucky will not soon forget how Mr. Stanley came to their rescue during their wrestle with the Tobacco Trust when they won out by organization, and that he freely gave his services when others were being paid for similar service.

The big combinations hate him, and that is a pretty good reason for the people of Kentucky to stick to him. He will stump the state after Congress adjourns and his position on all vital questions will be made known to all before the primary."

The Governor's reasons for withholding clemency, in the case of George Alexander, the Bourbon Co. banker, are unassailable. We are proud he did his duty to his State although great pressure was brought to bear in behalf of the convicted banker. Everyone pities Alexander and his family, but and state that pardons a man because of his prominence and family connection establishes a bad precedent. The rich, the prominent and the aristocratic should be no more immune from the law than other less favored men.

GREENLEAF.

Following an illness of only a week, Mr. Gabriel Greenleaf died of uremic poison at the home of his sister, Mrs. Emma Kauffman, Friday night Feb. 19th. Mr. Greenleaf's condition was not considered critical until Thursday when he lapsed into a state of unconsciousness from which he never emerged.

The deceased was born in Lancaster July 1, 1844, and was, perhaps, the oldest resident of our town who was born here. Mr. Greenleaf was never married, but had always made his home with his mother or sister to whom he was ever devoted. He was a man of fixed convictions and possessed the courage to proclaim them in times of war as well as in times of peace. He enlisted in the civil war at the age of seventeen, being a member of Wolfords cavalry.

After short funeral services conducted at the house by Rev. F. M. Tindler, the remains were laid to rest in the Lancaster cemetery.

Beautiful funeral services were conducted by the Knight Templars, of Richmond and Danville, of which order he was a faithful, devoted and worthy member.

DAVIS.

Mr. Samuel Davis died at his home on Danville Avenue, last Monday night at eight o'clock. Although, he was in bad health, for several years from a paralytic stroke, death was not expected so soon.

Mr. Davis was a partner with his father, Mr. W. C. Davis, in the tailoring business, up until a few years ago when he was taken ill and went away, hoping to regain health, but in vain.

He was a good natured, clever gentleman and was always kind and ready to lend a helping hand whenever he could. "Sam," as he was familiarly known, joined the Christian church in Somerset at a tender age, and was a study christian up until the time of his death. Had he lived until June 1st., he would have been forty-six years old.

After funeral services at the grave, all that was mortal was laid to rest in Somerset cemetery today (Thursday) at noon.

Mr. Davis is survived by his father, Mr. W. C. Davis of this place, two sisters, Mrs. W. T. Malone, of Campbellsville, and Mrs. W. B. Ball of this place and one brother, Mr. W. C. Davis, Jr., of Indianapolis, Ind. The Record, together with the entire community sympathizes with the family in their deep hour of sorrow.

SEBASTIAN.

Mrs. Jessie Sebastian, of near McCreary, died at her home about 8 o'clock Friday evening of consumption. Ollie's death was a great surprise to many people, but still, she had been in bad health for a year or more, but we never thought of her being called away so soon. Mrs. Sebastian was 24 years of age and she was a member of the Christian church, having joined it in her early life and was always a devoted member. She was a well known and much loved girl throughout the county. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jock Layton and is survived by her husband, Mr. Jesse Sebastian and a little babe four months and a half old, also by three sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Sim Wheeler, Misses Mary and Annie Layton, Messrs Stevie, Johnnie and William Layton, all from Garrard Co. This community extends the bereaved family much sympathy. The remains were followed by a large concourse of friends and relatives to the family burying ground near Spoonville, where she was laid to rest. The services at the grave were concluded by songs and prayer.

"Precious darling she has left us. Left us, yes forever more, But we hope to meet our loved one On that bright and happy shore. Lonely the house and sad the hours Since our darling one has gone, But oh, a brighter home than ours, In heaven is now her own."

TOBACCO BEDS BEING SOWN.

The weather for the last week has been ideal for sowing and burning tobacco beds and many of the growers of the weed have taken advantage of it in this county.

HE IS NOT DEAD.

An unfortunate error occurs in the Eubanks correspondence to the Journal elsewhere in this issue. Acting upon what he believed to be reliable information that Dr. W. E. McWilliams, a former resident of Eubanks had died recently at Buckeye, Garrard county, the correspondent sent it to his paper. The first pages were printed before it was definitely learned that Dr. McWilliams is very much alive and unable to account for the report.—Somerset Herald.

THE HONOR ROLL

Ex-Gov. David R. Francis of Missouri once said the following of newspapers: "Each year the local paper gives from $500 to $1,000 in free lines to the community in which he is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor, in proportion to his means, does more for his town than any ten men, and in fairness he ought to be supported—not because you like him or admire his writings, but because the local paper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be brilliantly edited or crowded with thought, but financially it is of more benefit to the community than the preacher or teacher. Understand me, I do not mean mentally, and yet on moral questions you will find most of the papers on the right side. Today the editor of the local papers do the most for the least money of any people on earth."

Many of the following have said something like this to us and sent us a dollar for which we thank them.

Becker, Ballard and Scott, those enterprising and progressive merchants of Bryantville, are offering the best grade of Tobacco cotton at 3 cents a yard. They have a large supply of field seed, that can be bought at right prices. Their Vulcan and Syracuse plows are as good as the best.

ATTENTION.

We wish to call attention to the growers of tobacco of this county to the letter of the Madison Tobacco Warehouse in this issue. This Company started the loose leaf system at Richmond, and they have been consistently successful in the management and control of the Warehouse there since they began, they report sales up to now of nearly 4 and three quarters million pounds and hope to reach five million or more before the close of the season. They also report prices high for good grades and steady to strong on all grades. It sold C. Pruitt crop, for Lancaster, 1565 pounds at the high average of $20 the hundred. Sales each and every day show a good strong steady market.

COOPER TALKED TO MANY FARMERS

Great European War Will Not Affect Distribution Of Tanlac.

Lexington, Feb 25th.

Thousands of farmers from Fayette and adjoining counties heard L. T. Cooper, the great philanthropist, in Lexington recently. Cooper gave one of his famous lectures on health and hygiene, in connection with an interesting demonstration of the merits of Tanlac, the remarkable medicine he is introducing to the American people. Several scores of these same farmers took part in the agricultural exposition conducted by Cooper at his own personal expense in Lexington. Many of the displays excelled the exhibits seen at the county fairs, and have attracted widespread attention throughout Kentucky.

In speaking of Tanlac and the remarkable cures his great medicine is fulfilling, Cooper said to the farmers: "Tanic, gentlemen, is not a common patent medicine. Tanlac is a proprietary medicine—the kind of medicine recently spoken of by Hon. Oscar Underwood, the Democratic leader of the House of Representatives in our national Congress at Washington, D. C. You all know that Mr. Underwood was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, and that he is a man of great ability and integrity. He is a native Kentuckian, too."

"Realizing what a real hardship it would bring to the thousands of American people who daily use Tanlac and similar proprietary medicines, should these preparations be included among the popular commodities upon which a special war revenue tax was placed, Congressman Underwood, with characteristic safeguard of the people's rights, placed himself on record as unalterably opposed to anything that would increase the price of proprietary medicines, or which would tend to deprive the working man of his best friend."

"The result was that Tanlac and similar proprietary medicines were stricken completely off the war revenue bill. Thus it is gentlemen, that the thousands of sufferers in this country are enabled to obtain Tanlac now at a price within reach of the most modest means."

Here, Cooper, holding the attention of the great assemblage, explained the causes and enumerated the symptoms of stomach, liver and kidney troubles. "Most of the so-called stomach, liver and kidney troubles," said the noted student, "are due almost entirely to catarrhal inflammation of those organs. The constant coughing up of mucus, dull, throbbing headaches, pains in the pit of the stomach, side and kidney region, lost appetite, nervousness, lost ambition, depression of spirits, and susceptibility to coughs and colds, are common symptoms of this miserable condition from which so many suffer."

Cooper then produced hundreds of testimonials from Lexington people as convincing evidence of the genuine merits of Tanlac.

Tanlac is now sold in Lancaster by R. E. McRoberts.

COUNTLESS CANDIDATES

Come To County Court and Call On Constituency.

One of the largest crowds seen in Lancaster for many months attended our County Court last Monday. While the February court usually brings together a good attendance, yet with the ban on the cattle trade, a much larger crowd attended than was expected. The quarantine on the cattle pens was enforced to the letter, yet about one hundred changed hands just outside the city limits. The public square was crowded with mules, but buyers were scarce and only a few changed hands. Candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth Attorney, were here in force and all were kept busy the entire day shaking hands with the voters that seemed to be here from every point in the district.

While Judge Hardin was a few hours late, owing to an accident to his car while enroute, yet he claims to have made up for the lost time by the encouragement he received from his friends. Hon. C. C. Fox was on the ground early and made a vigorous campaign during the entire day.

Hon. Emmett Puryear, Rodman W. Keenon and Judge John Sam Owsley, all candidates for Commonwealth Attorney, never left any grass grow under their feet and were on the ground until the last man left for his home.

Each told a representative of the Record that he was perfectly satisfied with the days work and predicted a good following in this county. The following sales were reported during the day. J. M. Roberts sold 16 head of cattle to Bottom and Whitehouse, of Boyle, for $500. W. B. Burton sold a nice pair of black mare mules to Center Bros, of Paint Lick, for $340. Mr. Jesse Guley, a three year old mule to Tom Daily for $125. J. C. Morgan, a black 5 year old mare to Virgil Gastineau, for $130. Tom Bruner, one horse mule to Mat Tussey, for $150. J. M. Edwards, a nice mare mule to J. D. Whitehouse, for $175. B. G. Fox bought a mule of J. L. Dozier for $100 and one of G. A. Morgan for $92.50.

ANCIENT KEEPSAKE

Prized by Garrard County Lady.

Mr. H. M. Wheeler, of Bohon, brought to the Herald office Wednesday a curiosity that is a much prized keepsake. In 1821 William G. VanArsdall was attending school in the west end of the county and among the pupils was pretty Eliza Cozine. One day young VanArsdall carved his initials, "W. G. V.," on a large hickory nut with the date, 1821, beneath the letters and presented the nut as a keepsake to his little schoolmate. She grew up and married and lived to a ripe old age, and when she died the nut was passed down to her daughter, Mrs. Mary Teater. At Mrs. Teater's death it went to her daughter, Mrs. Pamela Bogie, of Garrard county. Mrs. Bogie is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, at Bohon, and he brought the nut to this office. The nut is polished with age until it is as beautiful as a piece of old mahogany, and the initials and date carved by the hand of a school boy nearly a century ago are still plainly discernible. —Harrodsburg Herald.

SAFETY FIRST.

Is Appropriate Motto For Popular Car.

Mr. J. B. Cogar, of Lexington and manager of the Central Motor Car Co. of that city, was in Lancaster last Monday demonstrating the good qualities of the Mitchell automobile, for which they are distributors in this territory. "Safety First" is the motto of this popular car and with a world record of 7,500 in thirty days, with a sealed hood, is one that no other make has yet approached. The Light Four, which shows individuality in every line, its appearance, finish, comfort and performance, stamps it as one of the best on the market today.

The advertisement of this car appears in this issue of the Record and will be on display at the Automobile show in Lexington this week.
